Tuesdays and Fridays

BEST OF 'EM ALL

WAS K. P. FAIR THIS YEAR SAY
OLD-TIME FAIR MEN.

Big Crowd Was Present Friday, Last
Day And Enjoyed Splendid Show
Of Stuff—Notes.

The great K. P. fair of 1916 is now a memory. The fair closed last Friday afternoon, with a splendid crowd present, and with a magnificent display of stock and other things.

That this year's fair was the best of them all is conceded by everyone; both from point of attendance and the show of stock of different kinds. Old fair-goers all declared that as an old-fashioned country fair, the Stanford exhibition is without a peer in the state.

Indications are that the fair will be a satisfactory financial success. But for the first day's bad weather, its financial success would have been abundant. The cold rain the first day completely spoiled the attendance receipts for that day. The weather on Thursday and Friday was ideal, however, and the people turned out in large numbers.

The features of the last day's exhibition was the roadster ring, which was won by Senator R. L. Hubbe's great mare Ailsa Page, driven by her trainer and handler, Mack Hughes, of Danville. Bob Mitchell, of Harrodsburg, made a strong bid for this ring, but was clearly outclassed by the magnificent Hubbe mare and her victory met with the greatest popular approval. This is the ninth blue the mare has won this season out of 10 shows. During the driving in this ring, Mitchell got a tumble when he attempted to cut across in front of the Hubbe mare, most unfairly, many thought. He was slightly cut about the face, but was not seriously injured, and returned to the ring, his speedily gelding to the red ribbon.

The final day's awards were as follows:

Fairs Cost.
An idea of the money it takes to run a fair can be had when it is told that the ribbons used to label the winners and directors to indicate the winners of premiums cost the Knights of Pythias $29.75. It was a hard matter to get the red ribbons at any cost.

Should Make Money
It is impossible just now to say how the fair will come out financially but if all speculations are paid a small sum should be realized. Whatever is made will go to the Knights of Pythias lodge. Not a penny was paid to a single officer or director for his services but they did their work splendidly notwithstanding. It was a labor of love all along the line and the K. of P.'s hope that those who patronized the fair got as much pleasure out of it as they did in doing whatever they saw fit for the furtherance of the order and the enterprise it backed. The fair's affairs will be settled up right away and a statement of finances will appear in these columns in a few weeks, or just as soon as the business can be wound up.

Announces For Sheriff

J. H. Livingston, of East End, Out
For Democratic Nomination.

Notwithstanding the fact that many democrats hoped that the campaign for the county offices which will be decided next year, would not open until after the presidential election in November, it has already started by the announcement of J. H. Livingston, for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff, made in today's I. J. Mr. Livingston has not been previously actively identified with political affairs, but is a well known and respected young farmer of the East End of the county. He says he will make an active campaign for the nomination. Mr. Livingston issued the following card to the Democrats of Lincoln county:

I will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Lincoln county at the next primary election. As there are some more people in the west end of the county named Livingston than in the east end, I think you will not become confused will say, I am a son of Eld. J. G. Livingston and live with him near Crab Orchard. The east end of the county has not had a sheriff in my collection and has had nothing but the name of Livingston for a reason, alone, I think you owe this nomination to the east end. I have never asked for an office and am not able to buy it. Why vote for men that are able to buy the office and men who have had the place before? I believe in dividing the thing up and letting the poor man and the country man share the offices. I want the voters to consider these things before pledging themselves to some one else and what good reason can you give for not supporting me. My reputation is open for inspection and my references are anyone's who knows me. Hoping to see you all before a very great while I am resp'tl.

AUTOS HIT ON WINDING ROAD

Hill Spalding, of Lexington, formerly of Stanford, and Mr. Ned Smith, all well known here, had a narrow escape from a serious auto accident last Saturday morning, when starting up the tortuous hill on the north side of the Brooklyn Bridge. They were just rounding a turn when a Danville man in a Ford came scooting down the hill like lightning and crashed into them. The Danville party's wife, who was with him was badly cut and bruised in the smash-up. The Ford was badly damaged, but neither car was put out of commission by the collision. The rick on each side of Brooklyn bridge is very steep and very winding and most motorists negotiate it slowly both ways, and horns constantly kept blowing.

Just the Thing for Diarrhoea.

"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted for over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me as well as ever." Many druggists recommend this remedy because they know that it is reliable. Obtainable everywhere.

Mrs. Embry Albright, of Brodhead, was the guest of friends.

L. Sanders store on the corner of Main and Stanford streets in the hustling capital of the East End. The bride and groom were accompanied to their new home by Messrs. Harry and Hyman Pushin, proprietors of the Hub Department Store at Danville. The bride was cordially welcomed as they stopped in Stanford for a few minutes by a number of her old friends, who most pleasantly remembered her as Miss Rosa Fred, daughter of Morris Fred, who made his home here with his family a number of years ago. Mr. Fred and family now reside at Union, S. C., where the wedding ceremony was solemnized. Mrs. Schprintz and her husband, who is said to be a most progressive and energetic young business man, will receive a cordial welcome to Lincoln county.

HORSE FELL DEAD

PROBABLY ALL THAT SAVED
HARTWELL SHANKS'S LIFE

Well Known Local Boy Dragged Under Cart For 100 Yards When Runaway Dropped Dead.

Except for the fact that the horse he was driving dropped dead within a space of 100 yards, after it turned him out of the cart and started to run away, dragging the young man beneath, Hartwell Shanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Shanks, would have probably dragged to a horrible death last Friday afternoon. The young man was badly shaken up and bruised as it was, but not seriously, and was able to attend the dance that night. Shanks' escape was a very narrow one, and a very lucky one, however. He had been riding over Rural Route No. 3 as substitute for regular carrier A. C. Hill, who was at the fair. Just as he turned out of the Breyerville lane, at Mr. P. D. Newland's onto the Somerset pike, he wrapped the reins over one arm and was sorting the mail which had been collected. A wire brace for a fence around H. C. Baughman's farm was struck by the cart, and over it went with young Shanks beneath it, the reins wrapped about his arm. His horse frightened by the accident, immediately broke into a dead run, and started down the road, dragging Shanks beneath the cart. Almost in front of residence of W. T. Tucker, scarcely 100 yards from where the cart went over, the animal dropped dead, from a ruptured blood vessel, veterinarians say. This undoubtedly saved the boy's life. When friends got to him, he was pinned under the wreckage of the cart, and it is believed that nothing could have saved his life had the horse continued on its mad run, dragging the overturned vehicle and its helpless human freighter helplessly made light of his injuries, and after they had been dressed, attended the fair later in the afternoon and the dance that evening.

DANVILLE PIKE CLOSED

County Road Engineer Riffe has asked the I. J. to notify auto travelers that the Danville pike will be closed on the bridge below Pop Run, in its place for a week or so to auto travel. The old wooden bridge, which has always given so much trouble has been taken out during the course of reconstruction of the pike and in its stead a concrete bridge, a new concrete structure is being put in its place. The crossing at the creek is so steep and precarious, however, that autos will be unable to negotiate it. Mr. Riffe says, and for that reason, those who wish to travel in motor cars to the capital of Boyle, had best select some other route, until the new concrete bridge is finished.

MRS. CARPENTER BREAKS ARM

While gathering vegetables in her garden Saturday morning, Mrs. O. O. Carpenter, 68 years of age, fell and broke her arm near the wrist. The injury is not a very serious one, but will incapacitate her for some time from her usual duties and activities.

Pure Bred Poultry

On Exhibit at K. P. Fair By Hundreds.—The Ribbon Winners.

The display of high class pure-bred poultry at the K. P. Fair this year is very fine. Lincoln county can boast of a large number of breeders of the finest chickens that are produced, and nearly all of them had coops of birds on exhibition. DAILY I. J. A SUCCESS

The Daily Interior Journal, issued under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Stanford during the three days of the fair last week, was a gratifying success in every way. In addition to receiving the advertising patronage of numbers of the most progressive business firms of this section, the ladies supplies an abundance of editorial matter, relating mostly to their club activities and purposes, all of which was good reading, as well as the current news of the day, which was written by the I. J. staff. So much of the Woman's Club editorial matter was both timely and of interest generally that the regular issue of the I. J. will take the liberty to reproduce much of it from time to time, as space permits.

LOOKS LIKE IT

We opine, gentle reader, that there must be a whole lot of loyal fans in the Republican grand stand who stood up and wildly whooped when pitcher Hughes went into the box at the beginning of the great national game now being staged, who will, in about the third inning, be yelling just as loudly, "He ain't got nothin'! Take him out!"—Cincinnati Post.

AUTO SMASH AT LANCASTER

At Lancaster, Saturday afternoon an automobile driven by Mrs. J. M. Acton became unmanageable and crashed into the drug store of J. E. Storms, tearing out one end of it and completely demolishing a large plate glass window. No one was injured.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought I was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

At all druggists.

Heard About Town

Those who heard Judge Alden's superb lecture at the chautauqua remember a little story he told on himself about the part he took in an amateur entertainment up East. He composed a song of 17 verses which he sang and which was a "take off" on 17 of the citizens of the town of his school-boy days. Some of the things he sang about the gentlemen did not set well with them and not a few of them left the house in disgust. Years afterward he made a face in that town and was defeated by 17 votes. He said that he was confident that the gentlemen about whom he had sung were the ones who brought about his defeat. The primary of ten days ago is a reminder of the story. In the Berea precinct in Madison county, Congressman Helm and Charles F. Montgomery each got 21 votes. Can it be possible that 21 of the 22 applicants for postmaster of that town got peeved and voted against Mr. Helm, or did it "just happen so?"

The secret ballot affords a splendid opportunity for the "pay back" but of course the voters of that section of the good county of Madison are too large to take advantage of such conditions. Another primary echo is found in the returns from Mitchellburg and Perryville, Boyle county. Mr. Montgomery spoke at those places. At Mitchellburg he had just eight persons to hear him. He just got eight votes. At Perryville, the "hoodoo" number of 23 persons heard him and as strange as it may seem there were just that number of votes for him when the ballots were counted. Did he get every person who heard him speak, or did it "just happen so?" It very probably might never be known, but if he did, the result of the primary might have been far different had he spoken in every "school house in the district," as many of his friends urged him to do.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Liver Trouble

"I am bothered with liver trouble about twice a year," writes Joe Ding- man, Webster City, Iowa. "I have pains in my side and back and an awful soreness in my stomach. I heard of Chamberlain's Tablets and tried them. By the time I had used half a bottle of them I was feeling fine and had no signs of pain." Ob- tainable everywhere.

Accepts Nice Position

Attractive and Accomplished Stan- ford Girl To Teach In Richmond.

Miss Lissa Holtzclaw went to Rich- mond Wednesday of last week in response to a message from Prof. W. Bridges, Superintendent of City Schools of that place and she has since been elected teacher of Public Music in the High School of Rich- mond.

Miss Holtzclaw is one of Stanford's most attractive young women being as beautiful in character and disposi- tion as she is in person. She was ac- companied to Richmond by her for- mer teacher, Miss Ellen Ballou, who is justly proud of the honors con- ferred on her by the college of Music at Cincinnati as well as the position she has secured.

The Best Laxative.

To keep the bowels regular the best laxative is outdoor exercise. Drink a full glass of water half an hour before breakfast and eat an abundance of fruit and vegetables, also establish a regular habit and be sure that your bowels move once a day. When a medicine is needed take Chamberlain's Tablets. They are pleasant to take and mild and gentle in effect. Obtainable every- where.

Around the Ring

T. A. Brent believes in county fairs. He dropped $2 in the treas- urer's box yesterday "just to help the good thing along."

Col. John B. Dinwiddie is happy over the fact that he sold the mule lot in the ring yesterday for $12 more than Auctioneer I. M. Dunn did at the Danville fair.

Col. Nick Wathen, of Lebanon, was an interested spectator at the fair yesterday. He came up to see T. N. Aldridge, who travels for him and who was hurt in an auto acci- dent some weeks ago, and went from his room to the fair where he was busy shaking hands all day.

Mr. J. B. Jones, of Jones, Ga., M. L. Singleton, Secretary of the fair, T. V. Ferrill and Mr. James P. Gray, of the State of Georgia, but visiting friends in his old home at Somerset, attended an auto party to the fair Thursday.

A. C. Alford, one of Danville's best peace officers, was at the fair Thursday and everybody was very glad to see him.

Stewart Sandigge, of the West End, has a couple of nice horses. He inherits the love of the horse from his relatives, Charley Sandigge and Mack Hughes, and like them he al- ways knows how to show them.

One of the welcome fair visitors last week from Madison county was "Uncle Tommy" Mobley, of Rich- mond, who knows more fellows by their first name than most anyone, and is always given the glad hand wherever he goes.

Col. Will G. McKinney, the Poet Laureate of Alabama, whose head- quarters are at Montgomery, came back to his "Old Kentucky Home" for the biggest and best country fair in the state of Stanford last week.

Col. McKinney was kept so busy shaking hands with his host of friends and smiling to the ladies that he had hardly time to watch the blue bloods prance around the ring.

One of the delightful features of the fair's success was the dinner which was set each day under the auspices of Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Em- bry. No better fair dinner has ever been served anywhere than they

Heard About Town

A midnight marauder lifted 35 frying size chickens from the roosts of Miss Martha Rout's hen house a few nights ago, leaving no clew.

J. M. Carter, Harry Carter and W. R. Todd trip to a sale down in Adair county a few days ago. On their return, the rear spindle broke, and they repaired to a Lebanon garage to get it fixed.

There the repair men put in a wrong piece, and they finally wound up by walking 28 miles to catch a train at Parksville back home. They believe they are well qualified for any sort of a hike after that experience.

A. Nigam, of Parksville, Mo., says that: Clay Goodloe, a former Danville boy, now residing in Houston, Mo., in breaking a young farm horse to work has discovered that the horse is a talker. When disciplining with a whip the animal will exclaim "O!" in a near human accent.

Negroes who break horses for Goodloe have become superstitious about the talking horse and refuse to work to ride it. Goodloe is trying to teach the horse other words.

Harry Jacobs, the monument man, returned Thursday night from Ohio where he attended the National Monument Dealers' Association at Cleveland, land where over 1500 monument dealers from all over the United States were in attendance.

At the exhibit of monuments in the Armory there was $250,000 worth of work of the very latest things in the monument line. Mr. Jacobs also spent five days at Newark, O., at the Seventh Day Adventists camp meeting where over 1000 people were encamped on the ground and where several of the best speakers of the denomination spoke to the people.

At this meeting forty young men and women offered themselves as missionaries to the foreign field. Mr. Jacobs says that business is fine and wages high in Ohio as girls in the ammunition factories make from $18 to $30 a week and house servants get $17.50 a week in Cleveland, O. Crops of all kind were a total failure in that section on account of extreme dry and hot weather.

In remitting for another year he says: "I have noticed on the label of my last year's paper, the Interior Journal, that my subscription is past due which is true, but my negligence in remitting for another year's subscription on account of being out on the road so much, I am sorry to say, for my subscription for another year. I consider the Interior Journal the best and most newsy paper on my list of subscriptions including the San Francisco Chronicle, the Los Angeles Evening Herald and the Anderson Bulletin. Upon arriving at my home in the evenings from the office the Interior Journal is the first paper I read and all the other, so therefore in the future at any time my subscription expires please continue my subscription and remind me of the same and I will remit.
